

Local Artists: Greg McHuron & Meredith Campbell
January 12th, 7:00 PM - Old Wilson Schoolhouse
Renowned local artists Greg McHuron and Meredith Campbell will share stories of their experiences as successful artists in the Tetons. Greg works in oil, watercolor and gouache and specializes in plein-air painting after being introduced to the form by Conrad Schweiring. Meredith strives in her works to capture the life and individuality of her subjects incorporating realism, light and design to create her works of art.

Extreme Cyclists: Tracey and Jay Petervary
January 19th, 7:00 PM at the Old Wilson Schoolhouse

Just call them Team Tandem – The Petervarys have competed in extreme cycling events around the country, sharing the trail, the experience, and even the same bike. Through it all they have become closer, singing along the way as they set record after record as a tandem team in top competitions. Having traversed the North America continent as a team, the Petervarys will share their experiences, both comical and amazing as they have logged thousands of miles as a team and a married couple. Jay will share his story of winning the Ididabike competition in 2011.

Ski Mountaineers – Bill Briggs and Christian Beckwith
February 9th, 7:00 PM at the Pink Garter Theatre

In 1971, Bill Briggs executed the most audacious ski descent in American history – the Grand Teton. Forty years later, Christian Beckwith and friends repeated his line during a season that shattered the psychological boundaries of high mountain alpine skiing. Join us for an evening's exploration of risk and adventure from the very heart of the Tetons. NOTE: Venue change. $10 advance tickets at 225 N. Cache history museum and Teton Mountaineering. $15 day of show. Members free.

1970s Storytellers – Dail Barbour and Rob Cheek
February 16th, 7:00 PM at the Old Wilson Schoolhouse

What was Jackson Hole like in the 1970s? How many hippies were there? How did they all get along with the cowboy crowd? What was the anti-war movement like in Jackson Hole? Here is your chance to go back in time and hear firsthand what life was like in the Tetons during the heyday of flower power. Come hear from Dail and Rob as they share their experiences having lived through and survived the Age of Aquarius in the Tetons.

Free admission to all programs for current Jackson Hole Historical Society and Museum members; memberships available at the door. Non-member admission is $5 at Old Wilson Schoolhouse programs. February 9 program: $10 advance tickets available at 225 N. Cache history museum, and at Teton Mountaineering. $15 at the door.

Special thanks to series sponsors: Teton Heritage Builders, Old Wilson Schoolhouse Community Center, and Community Foundation of Jackson Hole. For information contact Karen Reinhart, Curator of Education and Outreach, 733-9605 x. 103 or 406-224-1534.